BIOGRAPHY

Prof. Heiner Schumacher studied economics at the University of Bonn. From 1972 to 2010 he was employed at KPMG. Following the completion of his examination as a German 'Wirtschaftsprüfer', he spent five years at the Paris (F) branch. Back in Germany he became Partner of KPMG and focused on the auditing and consulting of MDAX and SDAX listed companies. Over the last 12 years he was Office Managing Partner of the Bielefeld branch of KPMG and further specialized on SMEs.

Working as a lecturer for external accounting and auditing at the University of Bielefeld since 2002, Prof. Schumacher became honorary professor in 2008. During this time he published an empirical study on the potential implementation of international accounting (IFRS) for family owned companies.
